

Please leave the Wisconsin Do Not Call List alone. I'm tired of the ever-increasing, time-consuming ads on tv, radio, in newspapers, magazines and now, on my computer. When I thought we'd gotten rid of some of the unwanted solitations via the home phone, the ever-greedy corporations want to invade us again. And, while I'm replying, leave our cell phones out of this, too. I don't want any unasked for messages there, either.
